TOGETHER IN SCRIPTURE

Genesis 19:1–38

Context: Setting the Table

After an initial creational prologue, the book of Genesis divides into two unequal halves of five sections each. The first half of the book (2:4–11:26) deals with the history of humanity as a whole, from its creation to the birth of Abram. The second half of the book (11:27–50:26) focuses on the history of the patriarchs. In this conclusion of the seventh installment of the story of Abraham, God judges Sodom and Gomorrah and remembers Abraham by rescuing Lot.

Content: Hearing the Text

Read Genesis 19:1–38 together out loud.

Credo: Believing the Truth

Traveling with supernatural speed, the messengers arrived in Sodom just as the sun was setting. Compelled by Lot to accept his strange hospitality, they were preparing to lay down for the night when the men of Sodom arrived in force to demand that Lot hand over his guests. Lot's despicable sacrifices made no difference—in the end he had to be rescued by the very guests he was so desperate to protect. Despite Lot's continued stalling, the Lord in his mercy remembered Abraham and ensured that Lot and his family were safely outside of the city before it was destroyed by sulfurous fire from heaven. As the sorry end of Lot's story revealed, it proved easier to drag Lot's family out of Sodom than to erase the imprint of Sodom on their hearts.

Conduct: Reshaping Our Walk

While we rightly find Lot's treatment of his daughters shocking and outrageous, how might we ourselves be tempted to treat those dependent on us as pawns in our own plans for survival and advancement?

Examples: Choosing activities for our children that enhance our own self-image regardless of whether they are necessarily good for them; Making career decisions with little regard to their impact on our families; Treating our co-workers and subordinates as tools for the advancement of our own careers.

What are some of the situations in which we could be tempted to soften or ignore Scripture's clear condemnation of every form of homosexual practice?

Examples: Family gatherings; break rooms; classrooms.

REMEMBERING HIS SACRIFICE

THIS MORNING

Book of the Month

The Gospels tell the story of the life of Jesus Christ while he was on earth. But what evidence is there that the events actually happened? New Testament scholar, Peter J. Williams, answers questions about how the accounts were handed down throughout history and addresses objections that they're historical fiction. Written for the skeptic, the scholar, and everyone in between, this book answers common objections raised against the historicity of the Gospels in order to foster trust in God's Word.

Available downstairs in the Westside Bookstore
